"There is a time for everything,
and a season for every activity under the heavens."

There Is a Time for Everything | Ecclesiastes 3:1

1. Welcome

- Do you have any childhood memories of the Chuseok foods you look forward to most (such as songpyeon or jeon)?
- What grace from Grace Time stood out to you most this past week?

2. Sermon Summary

Solomon proclaims that there is a time for everything under heaven: a time to plant and a time to uproot, a time to weep and a time to laugh. Our world is constantly changing, and circumstances shift in every season, but God is the One who reigns over all time and history. How can we discern God's timing and live by faith in this ever-changing world?

1. We must acknowledge God's ().

(Ecclesiastes 3:11) "He has made everything beautiful in its time..."

When our plans are blocked or things do not go as we wish, we should not become anxious or discouraged. We must trust that God is the One who leads our lives at the best and most fitting time. Let us remember His grace, which has guided us through every past season of our lives.

2. We must do our () in the present time.

(Ephesians 5:16) "Make the most of every opportunity, because the days are evil."

The family, workplace, and place of ministry where God has placed us now are our "today." So that we may live today without regret, let us not postpone the mission and love God has entrusted to us, but put them into practice now. In times of hardship, let us respond with endurance, and in times of blessing, with even deeper gratitude.

3. We must keep our eyes on the eternal ().

(Ecclesiastes 3:14) "I know that everything God does will endure forever..."

It is easy for us to be swayed by what we see now, but God is fully sovereign over the beginning and the end. When we fix our eyes on the eternal God, we can be assured that the present time of pain and tears will pass, and the time of blessing and glory that God has prepared will surely come.

Let us fully surrender our time and lives to God in this changing world. Trusting in His timing, may our families fill each day with faith and obedience, living out a beautiful season in His plan.

3. Discussion

- 1) What part of today's message, "There Is a Time for Everything," spoke to your heart the most?

- 2) Looking back on your life, when can you say, "That was truly God's time of grace"?

- 3) Letting go of anxiety and impatience, what is one specific commitment you will practice this week in the place where God has put you (family, workplace) as you wait for His timing? Please share.

Prayer Together

Lord, help us to trust that You are in control of every moment of our lives. Give us faith to let go of anxiety and fear, and to wait fully on Your timing.
