Beginning the 1,000-Day Offering | Song of Songs 5:1-16

"I have come into my garden, my sister, my bride; ... I have eaten my honeycomb and my honey; I have drunk my wine and my milk. Eat, friends, and drink; drink your fill of love."

1. Welcome

What good habit have you recently started and kept up consistently?

What blessing from Grace Time stood out to you most this past week?

2. Sermon Summary

We are now taking our first steps together in the 5th 1,000-Day Offering. A single prayer may seem small, but when a thousand prayers are stacked up, amazing change comes to our lives, our families, and the next generation. Song of Songs 5 shows us that the Lord loves us and longs for intimate fellowship with us. As we begin this 1,000-day journey, with what heart should we come before the Lord?

1. We must enjoy loving (fellowship) with the Lord.

(Song 5:1) "I have come into my garden, my sister, my bride..."

The bridegroom joyfully answers the bride's invitation and even invites his friends to the feast. Our Lord delights in being with us. The God who answered Solomon's thousand burnt offerings by saying, "Ask for whatever you want me to give you" (1 Kings 3:5), also remembers our prayers and devotion and causes them to bear fruit.

2. We must respond to the Lord's (call) right away.

(Song 5:6) "I opened for my beloved, but my beloved had left..."

The bridegroom came wet with the dew of the night, but the bride hesitated for the sake of her own comfort, and when she finally opened the door, he had already gone. The Lord still knocks on the door of our hearts today (Rev. 3:20). Let us not miss the opportunity of grace because of weariness or busyness. The Lord meets again those who seek Him again.

3. We must grow in the (knowledge) of the Lord.

(Song 5:16) "...This is my beloved, this is my friend..."

After losing the bridegroom, the bride realizes how precious his love is and confesses, "This is my beloved, this is my friend." Spiritual growth lies in how deeply we know the Lord and become like Him (2 Pet. 3:18). The confession of one who has come to know the Lord deeply becomes a channel that leads the next generation and the nations to Him.

Every dawn, the Lord knocks on the door of our hearts. Let us hear His voice, obey at once, and keep praying to the end. A thousand days from now, may we be families who confess, "Lord, You are my beloved and my friend."

3. Discussion

- 1) In the opening message of the 1,000-Day Offering, "Do Not Miss the Voice of Our Beloved Lord," what part touched your heart the most? Please also share an experience of grace when the Lord met you in a place of prayer.

- 2) Do you have a special time or place where you feel closest to the Lord? What aspect of His character (love, faithfulness, patience, etc.) have you newly come to know through that time, and what change has it brought to your life?

- 3) As we begin the 5th 1,000-Day Offering, share one commitment you will practice this week to joyfully answer the Lord's knocking (e.g., a set prayer time, specific prayer topics).

Prayer Together

Lord, help us joyfully answer Your voice as You knock on the door of our hearts every dawn.

Make us families who know and love You more deeply throughout these 1,000 days.
